Literature

The combination of the naturalistic representation of the horses' bodies with the more stylised facial features on the young man, indicates that this bronze may be dated to the transitional period from Archaic to Classical Greece, between the first and second Persian Wars circa 490-480 B.C.

For a bronze figure with similar archaic rendering of the rider's face and eyes, cf. M. Comstock & C. Vermeule, Greek, Etruscan and Roman Bronzes in the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, Boston, 1971, p. 42, no. 42. For two slightly earlier Greek statuettes of riders, cf. Comstock & Vermeule op. cit., pp. 34-5, nos. 32-33. Cf. A.S. Walker, Animals in Ancient Art from the Leo Mildenberg Collection, Mainz, 1986, no. 124, 188.

Literature

The Athena Palladion form is thought to have originated in the 7th Century B.C. This type of statuette is named after the statue of the goddess at Troy that was carried away by the Greeks when they captured the city. The story is depicted in black-figure vase painting of the 6th to early 5th Century B.C. The form is characterised by an archaizing style, a frontal posture, with the right arm raised to hold her spear aloft, her left arm holding her shield in front. For similar bronzes, cf. J. Charbonneau, Greek Bronzes, New York, 1962, p. 141, pl. VII.

Literature

This Little Master cup has previously been attributed to the Circle of the Tleson Painter. However it has close links to the band-cup with hens and swans, Haverford EA-1989-5, attributed by Ann Ashmead to Elbows Out (also known as Painter of Louvre E 705) in A.H. Ashmead Haverford College Collection of Classical Antiquities, 1999, 7-8

Elbows Out is a mannerist and seems to enjoy the combination of hens and swans more than others and palmettes are usually absent. His work does recall that of Tleson. Cf. J.D. Beazley, Attic Black-figure Vase-painters, 1956, 250-51 and J.D. Beazley, Paralipomena Oxford 1971 112

Literature

This amphora has been previously identified as the work of the Bucci Painter so-named by von Bothmer from an amphora formerly in the collection of Donato Bucci, now in the New Orleans Museum of Art. H.A. Shapiro, Art, Myth and Culture, Greek Vases from Southern

However it has also been suggested that the painter of this vase may be connected to Group E (the E standing for Exekias), a group of Attic black-figure vase painters from whose workshop Exekias is thought to have emerged. This lot demonstrates some similarities to painters such as the Towry Whyte Painter and the group of London B 174. For further discussion of the group, see J. Beazley, Attic Black-Figure Vase-Painters, Oxford, 1956, pp. 133-143 and J. Boardman, Athenian Black-figure Vases, London, 1974, p. 62.

Literature

The Leagros Group were active circa 520-500 B.C. and were the last important group of Attic vase painters to paint large-format images on vases in the black-figure style. The number of type A amphorae such as this by artists of the Leagros group is comparably low compared to the large number of neck amphorae and hydriae.

They portrayed vigorous and complex scenes with overlapping figures echoing the innovations of their red-figure contemporaries, the Pioneer Group, but still within the traditions of black-figure painting. The liquid and free lines of the figures of the Nordmann Amphora suggest that it can be dated to the later phase of Leagros group, with similarities to the bilingual work of the Nikoxenos Painter.

(side B)

For a similar scene of the apotheosis of Herakles on another Type A amphora belonging to the Leagros Group now in the British Museum, cf. J.D. Beazley, Attic Black-Figure Vase-Painters, Oxford, 1956, no. 367.89. For a similar Dionysiac scene to that on side (b) now in the De Young Memorial Museum, San Francisco, cf. op. cit., no. 367.92. For an example with goats by the Chiusi Painter now in the Antikensammlung Berlin, inv. no. F1827, cf. J.D. Beazley Paralipomena, Oxford, 1971, no. 170.5.

The graffito on the Nordmann amphora appears to be a variant of Johnston's Type 17 E(iii) which occurs on a hydria by the Leagros group. A. Johnston, Trademarks on Greek Vases, Warminster, 1979, no. 28.

Literature

This amphora has been attributed to the Leningrad Painter. This amphora is only the second complete example known by the Leningrad Painter, a prominent member of the workshop of Early Mannerists, pupil of Myson and "brother" of the Pig Painter. Beazley first used the term mannerist to denote a group of painters who, at the time of radical change in artistic expression with the emergence of a new Classical style, chose to adhere to the Archaic tradition.

For the Leningrad Painter and his works see J. D. Beazley, Attic Red-Figure Vase-Painters, vol. I, Oxford, 1963, pp. 567-574, and vol. II, p. 1659. M. Robertson, The Art of Vase-Painting in Classical Athens, Cambridge, 1992, pp. 143-150; T. Mannack, The Late Mannerists in Athenian Vase-Painting, Oxford, 2001.

The other complete amphora type B by the Leningrad Painter is in The State Hermitage Museum, St. Petersburg, inv. no. B 2228. J. D. Beazley, ARV2 p. 570, no. 70, Para. 513. However the closest example to this lot, both in style and ornament, is a once heavily restored amphora in the Vatican, Museo Gregoriano Etrusco, inv. no. 17887. J. D. Beazley, ARV2 p. 573, no. 11, which Beazley rightly observed, should be by the painter himself. For a somewhat comparable scene of Theseus being greeted by his father on his arrival in Athens by the Oinante Painter, a related Early Mannerist, see the amphora type B in London, British Museum E 264. J. D. Beazley, ARV2, p. 579; T. Mannack, op. cit., p. 21, fig. 3.7.

On the foot's reserved underside there is a small Etruscan numerical graffito. Prof. Alan W. Johnston has identified the graffito as the Etruscan notation for the number 35.

A GREEK MARBLE RELIEF

LATE CLASSICAL - EARLY HELLENISTIC PERIOD, CIRCA LATE 4TH-3RD CENTURY B.C.

£12,000 - 15,000

US$20,000 - 25,000

€15,000 - 19,000

Provenance

American private collection, New York, acquired in 2009 from the New York art market.

American private collection, Kingston, New York, acquired in the mid-1980s.

Literature

The stance and high-bellied chiton of this statue of a girl are reminiscent of attendants on Attic funerary stele, for example the Stele of Kallisto in Athens (NM 732), cf. B.S. Ridgway, Fourth-Century Styles in Greek Sculpture, London, 1997, pl. 40. For a similar funerary statue of a servant girl now in the Kimbell Art Museum, Fort Worth, Texas (AP 72.3), cf. C.C. A GREEK MARBLE MALE HEAD

HELLENISTIC PERIOD, CIRCA 3RD-2ND CENTURY B.C.

Probably depicting a deity or hero, likely Hercules, with large deep-set eyes beneath a heavy browline, the top and back roughly hewn, the hair probably separately added in stucco, 9 3/4 in (24.7cm) high, mounted

£40,000 - 60,000

US$66,000 - 99,000

€50,000 - 75,000

Provenance

American private collection, California, acquired in 2003 from Jean-Philippe Marlaud de Serres, Paris.

French private collection, before 2000.

Literature

According to R.R.R. Smith, Hellenistic Sculpture, London, 1999, p. 206, the 'use of various types of marble-saving techniques' such as the addition of stucco for the hair, are typical of the Hellenistic sculpture of Alexandria. For a portrait of a late Ptolemy with added stucco hair and beard, now in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, acc. no. 5951, cf. R.R.R. Smith, op. cit., no. 244.

This lot has been previously identified as a portrait of Ptolemy (I) Soter. Whilst the royal head from the Alexandria Serapeion group demonstrates a similar ideal god-like quality and lack of individualism in its portrait style, this lot is closer to the idealised treatment of the face and features seen on the Serapeion Serapis, now in the Graeco-Roman Museum, Alexandria, no. 3912. R.R.R. Smith op. cit., p. 207, no. 227.3.

£10,000 - 15,000

US$17,000 - 25,000

Literature

Candelabra, or lamp stands, were used to support lamps used by the Romans for illumination. A bronze or terracotta lamp would have been placed on top of the stand. There is a Roman bronze lamp stand with some similar elements in the Walters Art Gallery, Baltimore, USA, accession number 54.1915.

€50,000 - 75,000

Literature

The somewhat idealised facial features, manner of carving, and form of the hairlocks of this portrait suggest a date in the early imperial period, under the influence of Augustan classicism. However, the modelling of the surfaces, especially in the area of the eyes, looks back somewhat to late Roman Republican portraiture, especially as in portraits of Marcus Vipsanius Agrippa, the loyal friend and son-in-law of Augustus. In fact, the portrait features of this individual vaguely resemble those of Agrippa, particularly the areas of the lips and eyebrows, though the profile view and the arrangement of hairlocks over the forehead do not compare well with the established portraiture of Agrippa.

One of the best known portraits of Agrippa is from Gabii (Italy), now in the Louvre in Paris, with other replicas adhering to this type. Cf. L. Fabbrini, 'Marco Vipsanio Agrippa. Concoordanze e discordanze iconografiche. Nuovi contributi,' in Eikones: Studien zum griechischen und römischen Bildnis, Festschrift für H. Jucker, AntK Beiheft 12, Bern, 1980, pp. 96-107; and more recently, D. Boschung, Gens Augusta: Untersuchungen zu Aufstellung, Wirkung und Bedeutung der Statuengruppen des julisch-claudischen Kaiserhauses, Monumenta Artis Romanae XXXII, Mainz, 2002, pp.45-46, esp. 46, no. 6.10.

In some cases, portraits of members of the imperial family diverge somewhat from the official Rome models, as has been suggested in the case of a portrait sometimes identified as Agrippa from Magnesia in Asia Minor in the Altes Museum in Berlin. M. Kunze et al., Die Antikensammlung im Pergamonmuseum und in Charlottenburg, Staatliche Museen zu Berlin, Mainz, 1992, pp. 205-206, no. 94. Yet because of certain differences the Altes head has also been questioned as being a true portrait of Agrippa. Private individuals sometimes imitated to some degree the hairstyles and even facial features of leaders of Rome. This was especially true of patricians or dependents of these Roman aristocrats. This may be the case with our portrait head, or the vague resemblance to Agrippa may be purely coincidental.

This fine life-size white marble head is well preserved at the front. The cavity, rough chiseling, and iron dowel at the back of the head are clear indications that the back section of the head was once added. In addition, the rough surface at the rim of the left ear and a small iron dowel indicate that the now lost rim of the ear was also carved separately and attached. A large section of the back left side of the marble has been roughly worked, as well as a small section of the right back side of the neck.

This rough working of the marble suggests that the sculptor created this head out of an irregular piece of marble, not uncommon in Roman portraiture. In some cases marble-dust stucco was used to fill in or to complete irregularities. Since heads of this sort were regularly placed in niches or against a wall, the back sides would not have been seen.

The way the concave base of the neck has been carved and the partially preserved rounded rim of the neck (still evident on its lower left side) suggest that this head did not break off from either a full-length statue or a bust but was carved as only a head, possibly to be mounted on a herm, or pillar.

M.B. Comstock and C.C. Vermeule, Sculpture in Stone. The Greek, Roman and Etruscan Collections of the Museum of Fine Arts Boston, Boston, 1976, p.130, no.200.

Literature

The combined representation of a satyr with the attributes of Zeus Ammon is very uncommon with only one other known example from a double herm offered in 1939 to the Ny Carlsberg Glyptotek in Copenhagen. It is likely that also this piece was originally part of a herm decorating a garden. According to Comstock and Vermeule this unusual symbolic combination is a product of the late Hellenistic period and the attempt to represent 'the mythological triumph of Dionysus in India and the real or legendary achievements of Alexander the Great in Egypt and the East'.

€7,500 - 10,000

Provenance

UK private collection, acquired from Charles Ede Limited in 2008.

Literature

The inscription can be read as

[...?Dom]itio Sex[... f[...]

[...]nio Q[... f[...]

[...?Cor]nella Fo[...]

[...]a Q[... f[...]

Therefore a tentative translation is '...to [...] Domitius [...], son of Sextus; to [...]nius [...], son of Quintus; Cornelia Fortunata; [...]a Postuma daughter of Quintus.'

All four are Roman citizens as they each have nomen and cognomen and three of them filiation. The men would usually have had praenomen as well and probably a voting tribe both of which are now lost. It is unclear what the relationship was between the four individuals and also what the purpose was for the erection of the inscription.

Provenance

Swiss private collection.

Cahn Auktionen AG, Auktion 5, 18 September 2010, lot 381.

Collection of Mr D., France, collected circa 1920.

Literature

The Latin inscription can be read as

'D(is) M(anibus) s(acrum). Caecilia/Procula vixit / annis (vixit) uno), Caecili pater et / Felix maritus / eius dedica/verunt. H(ic) s(it)a e(st).'

This can be translated as 'To the shades of the departed, here lies Caecilia Procula, aged twenty-one, the Caecili, her father and Felix her husband dedicated this father and husband both shared the name Caecilius'.

The finely carved inscription records that the deceased left behind no children, only a father and a husband. All three were perhaps freedmen/women of a Caecilius as both husband and father shared the name. However it is more likely that this is a family group descended from a freedman as they were of a sufficient prominence and wealth to merit such a large and well-carved funerary monument. The attributes of the cornucopia and wreath, although commonplace, are indicative of the social standing of the family. It is likely that this stele belonged to a larger family funerary monument as suggested by the projection at the back of the stele.

Literature

Titus Aurelius Fulvus Boionius Antoninus was born 19 September A.D.86 at Lanuvium, near Rome, to a consular family. He held several positions of authority during the Emperor Hadrian's rule and after the death of Hadrian's intended successor, Aelius Verus in early 138, Antoninus was named heir. Antoninus Pius became Emperor at the age of 52, and his portrait types depict him as a never-aging adult. See D. Kleiner, Roman Sculpture, Yale, 1992, pp. 268-9.

Max Wegner, has discussed the surviving portraits extensively and divided them into three basic types (M. Wegner, Die Herrscherbildnisse in antoninischer Zeit [Das römische Herrscherbild, part II, vol.4, Mann, 1939]). This portrait appears to accord with the Vatican Sala a Croce Greca 595 type created circa A.D. 147-9, around the time of his decennalia. For a similar arrangement of drapery on a bust of Antoninus Pius, cf. Kleiner, op. cit., p. 270, fig. 233.

Literature

The type of portrait is thought to be after a 4th Century B.C. original by Lysippus. The balding pate, heavy features, thick curling beard and the swathes of Greek-style drapery around the bust are typical of such portraits of Socrates, known as Type B. Cf. G.M.A. Richter (abridged and revised R.R.R. Smith), The Portraits of the Greeks, London, 1984, pp. 198-204, fig. 161.

The deep drilling of the hair and curls combined with the incised irises and drilled pupils indicate a date in the mid to late 2nd Century, during the Antonine Period. There are related portraits in the Capitoline Museums, Rome. K. Fittschen and P. Zanker, Katalog der römischen Porträts in den Capitulinischen Museen und den anderen kommunalen Sammlungen der Stadt Rom. II. Die Männlichen Privatporträts, Berlin/New York, 2010, nos. 119, 120, 122, pp. 118-122.

US$50,000 - 66,000
€38,000 - 50,000

Literature

A mid-2nd Century date can be suggested by a stylistically similar portrait of Antoninus Pius from Olympia, Greece. M. Wegner, Die Herrscherbildnisse in antonischer Zeit, 1939, p.136, pl.9b. The dating is also supported by stylistic considerations, which include the incising of the ridges and the large shallow bore-hole in the pupils of the eyes, as well as the deeply undercut long hairlocks. Drilling of the hairlocks sometimes with small stubs left between the individual drill channels was characteristic at the time of Marcus Aurelius (A.D. 161-180). In this portrait the hair is still treated plastically rather than schematically suggesting that it dates to the reign of Antoninus Pius (A.D. 138-181).

The artistic style of this portrait is in keeping with mid-late 2nd Century sculptures of the Greek East, especially of Greece. There are two particularly close stylistic parallels, circa A.D. 200, in Copenhagen, NY Carlsberg Glyptothek, inv. nos. 800 & 1808. Cf. F. Johansen, Catalogue. Roman Portraits, NY Carlsberg Glyptothek, 1995, vol. II, no.62, p.156 and vol. III, no.30, p.80. Both demonstrate the same centrally-parted long curling hair, with the latter bearded example identified as a portrait of a Greek whilst the former clean-shaven portrait has been identified as Alexander the Great by V. Poulsen.

It has also been suggested that this portrait is meant to depict Alexander the Great, with portraits of Alexander being produced as late as the 4th Century A.D. For a 4th Century portrait of Alexander from Aphrodisias in Turkey, cf. R.P.R. Smith, 'Late Roman Philosopher portraits from Aphrodisias', JRS, 80, 1990, 135-38, pls.VIII-IX.

Literature

These types of statues were often carved in coloured marbles, with the head, necks and hands usually carved separately in another coloured stone such as white marble.

The image of the captive barbarian became particularly prevalent from the late 1st Century A.D. onwards, as a reflection of increased Roman military triumph and Imperial expansion.

This particular example contains the word 'raipiu' that can be translated as revetment, which occurs only here.

King Shalmaneser III (858 BC – 824 BC) carried out significant building projects in the city of Kalhu, modern-day Nimrud, including the ziqqurat of the Ninurta Temple.

Accompanied by a copy of a shipping document dated 1981 and by a letter to Mr Katebi dated 28 January 1983, referring to the publication of the coffin.

Published

J. Curtis, 'Late Assyrian Bronze Coffins', in Anatolian Studies, vol. 38, London, 1983, pp.85-89.

Literature

This type of 'bathtub' coffin was produced in Assyria by a network of closely related workshops across a period of two centuries for the elite of the time. The idea that their primary use was as luxury bathtubs and that only after the owner's death they would be recycled as coffins is now considered ill-founded and probably derived from the similarity to metal bathtubs of similar shape which were widespread in Western Europe in the 19th and 20th centuries.

There are only three other known 'bathtub' coffins known to have come from excavated contexts. Two were found by Sir Leonard Woolley during one of his excavation campaigns at Ur in 1925-26, later published in L. Woolley, Ur Excavations, Vol. IX, The Neo-Babylonian and Persian Periods, London, 1962, pp.56 and 113.

One is now in the British Museum and the other at the Birmingham City Museum and Art Gallery. As described by Woolley, both coffins were found in the ruins of the old Nin-gal temple and 'contained the body of a woman, wrapped in linen and woollen cloths, adorned with beads of agate, gold earrings, glazed vases, and in one case, a bronze mirror and a finely gadrooned bowl, also a basket and wooden vessels in very bad condition' and both were 'provided with a wooden cover'. The third excavated coffin is from the site of Sendschiri, in northern Syria, published by the German archaeologist Walter Andrae, W. Andrae, Die Kleinfunde von Sendschiri, Berlin, 1943, p.171, pl.57. This coffin is identical in shape to the others, but appears to be the only one without incised decoration over the vertical panels.

With thanks to Julia Jarrett for the drawing.

A fragmentary fourth coffin, of which most of the original pieces are now in the Metropolitan Museum in New York, was published by the French archaeologist André Godard in 1950, together with other items which reputedly formed the famous Treasure of Ziwiyé, A. Godard, Le Trésor de Ziwiyé (Kurdistan), Hœrlem, 1950, p.17. According to Godard a rich treasure of gold, silver and other metal items was found by locals in Ziwiyé, upland Kurdistan in 1947. Some of the pieces were sold to dealers and found their way to the Iran Bastan Museum where Godard was director and he decided to publish them. For an illustration of the panel from the Ziwiyé coffin, cf. R.D. Barnett, The Treasure of Ziwiye, in Iraq, Vol XVIII, London, 1956, pp.111-116, pl.XV.

Two additional bronze panels, decorated with a virtually identical motif of goats and rosettes are now in the Ashmolean Museum in Oxford, P.R.S. Moorey, Catalogue of the Ancient Persian Bronzes in the Ashmolean Museum, Oxford, 1971, p.259, pl.494B. Although it is not possible to know the nature of the original object from which these two panels would have derived, it is safe to assume that they are of comparable date, although smaller in size.

Provenance

Literature

It is likely that this statue is a votive offering to a local god, depicting a nobleman as a worshipper. There is a larger life-sized bronze of a nobleman from a sanctuary at Shami (modern Khūzestān Province), now acc. no. 2401 in the National Museum of Iran, Tehran cf. H.E. Mathiesen, Sculpture in the Parthian Empire, Aarhus, 1992, p.165-167, no. 80. The pose and stylised nature of the drapery of the Shami figure has similarities with this lot. According to R.R.R. Smith, through the Shami figure 'a new Iranian image is here expressed by Greek means'. See R.R.R. Smith, Hellenistic Royal Portraits, Oxford, 1988, p.102.

A more precise match for the drapery shown on this lot is another bronze figure from Shami also in Tehran. Cf. V. Lukonin, Persia, vol. II, 1967, pl. 21; T Kawami, 'Monumental Art of the Parthian Period in Iran', Acta Iranica, vol. XIII, Leiden, 1987, pl. 13. Also a small-scale 2nd Century B.C. terracotta figure from a Seleucid site at Fallaka, now in the Kuwait National Museum. This bearded and seated figure has been identified as a ruler and can be seen to demonstrate the move from late Seleucid to early Parthian styles of clothing. Cf. R.R.R. Smith, Hellenistic Sculpture, London, 1991, p.228, no.276.

For further discussion, cf. H.E. Mathiesen, 'Stylistic Trends in Late Parthian Sculpture, A Survey', in Analecta Romana Institut Danici, 17-18, 1989, p.120 and D. Schlumberger, L'Orient Hellenise, Paris, 1870, p.156-157.

Literature

This ring belongs to a small group of Early Medieval rings found in the UK with similar decoration of a cloisonné cruciform-petal motif with granulation and filigree. For an Early Medieval ring from Uttlesford District, Essex, cf. Treasure Annual Report, 2008, no.195, LON-3478C7; and another from Warwick, TAR, 2001, no.46, PAS-D681D8; and also a ring from Dorset, TAR, 2003, no. 110.

The Portable Antiquities Scheme report (FAKL-6C1815) for this ring concludes that all the above examples although possibly of continental origin are more likely to be of local Anglo-Saxon production.

Literature

These types of impressive luxury silver 'picture dishes' have their origins in Roman Imperial silver 'show plates' of the 1st Century A.D. found in a number of hoards from throughout the Roman Empire. Cf D.E. Strong, Greek and Roman Gold and Silver Plate, Cornell University Press, 1986, p. 150. Later Roman hoards of luxury silver were from the 4th and 5th Centuries have contained pagan iconography alongside Christian inscriptions and themes, demonstrating the continuation of traditional mythological subjects well into the Early Christian and Byzantine eras.

Such deployment of Classical themes has been interpreted as 'once-potent sacred imagery designed to invoke the fast-vanishing Classical past and the culture of pagan paideia in an already Christian cultural context' J. Elsner, Imperial Rome and Christian Triumph, Oxford, 1998, p. 209. Paideia was a traditional educational programme for the Graeco-Roman elite since the Hellenistic period and its continuity amongst members of the early Byzantine elite is clear in both visual and literary culture of the period. For further discussion, see: R. Leader-Newby, 'Classicism and Paideia in Early Byzantine Silver from the Hermitage', in F. Althaus and M. Sutcliffe, (eds.), The Road to Byzantium: Luxury Arts of Antiquity, London, 2006, pp. 67-73.

Other plates of a similar period in the State Hermitage Museum, St Petersburg depict comparable mythological subjects. For example Meleager and Atalanta setting off for a hunt (inv. no. ω 1) and the quarrel between Ajax and Odysseus over Achilles's armour with Athena presiding (inv. no. ω 279). Cf. Althaus and Sutcliffe, op. cit., p. 159, nos. 86-7.

The subject matter of this lot can certainly be seen in the context of paideia and the study of important works of classical literature. Odysseus, the great eponymous hero of Homer's epic poem The Odyssey was the king of Ithaca and the plate depicts the end of his ten-year journey home from the Trojan Wars. Homer tells us that at the goddess Athena's suggestion, Odysseus disguises himself as a beggar to ascertain the loyalty of his household. This plate captures the moment that Odysseus, accompanied by the servant Eumaeus, is recognised by his dog Argos despite his master's disguise of the long unkempt hair of a beggar. The goddess Athena looks on to watch the culmination of her protection of Odysseus.

Outside of traditional paideia, it is also possible to trace the adoption of classical mythological subjects into Christian writings of late antiquity onwards. Gregory of Nazianzus, the 4th Century A.D. Christian Church Father advocated the study of classical literature and Odysseus appears in his homilies with the hero's wanderings given a Christian symbolic interpretation.

It is possible to date this plate to the mid-6th to mid-7th Century A.D. Similar styles of decoration and mythological subjects have been found on plates dated by control stamps to the reign of the emperor Justinian I (A.D. 526-65). For example a silver plate now in the Hermitage (inv. no. ω 277) shows a related seated figure identified as a goatherd, also with a tree and a dog. R. Cormack & M. Vassilek (eds.) Byzantium 330-1453, Royal Academy of Arts, London, 2008, pp. 88-9, 388, no. 33. The stylistically close aforementioned Meleager and Atalanta plate can be dated from control stamps to A.D. 613-29. Althaus and Sutcliffe, op. cit., pp. 58-9, no. 87. There is also a silver plate probably from Constantinople, now in the Bayerisches Nationalmuseum in Munich (inv. L.56/113) depicting Meleager wearing very similar boots to Odysseus. L. Wamser, Die Welt von Byzanz - Europas östliches Erbe, Munich, 2004, pp. 244-5, no. 358.

The chased acanthus frieze on the reverse is very close to that on a silver bowl from Constantinople, now in the Hermitage (inv. no. ω 280) also dated to the reign of Justinian. Exhibition Catalogue, Alexander the Great. The Road to the East, The State Hermitage, Saint Petersburg, 2007, p. 366, no. 393. The underside of the foot of this plate is decorated with a chased depiction of a horse as opposed to the profile head, probably of Alexander the Great, on the reverse of the Odysseus plate. The subject and style of this decoration can be seen as very much in accordance with the classicising subject of the main plate.

Other details of the Odysseus plate can also be paralleled in Byzantine art of differing media. For an early 6th Century marble relief fragment from Constantinople, now in Berlin, depicting a servant with very similar headwear and drapery to the youth on the Odysseus plate cf. L. Wamser, Die Welt von Byzanz - Europas östliches Erbe, Munich, 2004, p. 216, no. 314.

Literature

This remarkable Treasure consists of an extraordinary assemblage of silver jewellery and travertine vessels excavated at Harageh by a team working under the direction of the legendary William Matthew Flinders Petrie, universally regarded as the father of modern archaeology. That team was led by Reginald Engelbach whose career in Egyptology included a term as Chief Keeper of the Egyptian Museum in Cairo.

In October of 1913 Engelbach's team began excavations at the site of Harageh, located near the entrance to the Fayum, that rich agricultural depression 62 miles southwest of Cairo. This site contained an extensive necropolis which the excavators divided into thirteen zones – one of which contained Tomb 124, in which this Treasure was found. The tomb is suggested to have belonged to an elite woman of elevated status, often identified as Iytenhab, on the basis of a funerary stela (see page 147) which may not have been part of the original entombment. The ensemble, dated to the 19th Century B.C. and assigned to the 12th Dynasty of the Egyptian Middle Kingdom, has been repeatedly published.

The Treasure includes five objects in travertine, a stone more popularly known as alabaster – of which four are vases. Of these, two are associated with cosmetics. The smallest is a lidded jar designed as three separate elements, carefully sculpted to form a seemingly seamless vessel – the underside of the lid of which exhibits a circular boss to ensure a tight seal when placed over the mouth. Such pots are suggested to have contained kohl, a galena-based cosmetic with which the ancient Egyptians lined their eyes. This was accompanied by a tapered, lidded vessel, sharing a common design with a well-documented classification of contemporary cosmetic vessels. The bag-shaped flask exhibits a series of three delicately sculpted rings ornamenting its lip. The vase with a distinctively designed stopper is a miniature version of much larger magical jars, the inscription on one of which states that its contents were cool waters of the earth which beget every living thing, the use of which would cause the deceased to live and be restored.

The most extraordinary of these five travertine objects is the so-called cosmetic spoon, the handle of which is uniquely designed as an ankh-sign. Such objects appear to have been possessed of symbolic value when utilised as grave goods aiding the deceased in the regaining sexual potency so necessary for the attainment of rebirth in the hereafter.

The jewellery consists of six groups, all created in silver, which is rarely attested as a material within the known corpus of Middle Kingdom jewellery. One notes that on occasion in ancient Egypt, silver was the more prized precious metal, often worth more than gold. There are seven cowrie shells of silver which were originally worn as either a necklace or a girdle on the basis of representations of women of the Middle Kingdom who are depicted so accessorised. The cowrie shell was anciently regarded as an equivalent of the female vulva which according to ancient Egyptian religious tenets, was possessed of powerful apotropaic properties against the evil eye.

There are additionally fourteen actual sea shells each mounted in silver which are suggested to have originally formed pendants on a necklace. These shells attest to an ever-increasing Egyptian maritime interest in the Red Sea and were probably regarded as rare, deluxe objects in their own right. Their incorporation into jewellery of this period is exceptional because the excavators regarded these fourteen pendants as the earliest attested use of such real shells in ancient Egyptian jewellery.

There are eleven elements of silver inlaid with a variety of materials, which appear to have formed part of a pectoral, or plaque-like pendant worn over the chest. Among these are individual elements designed as hieroglyphs which can be arranged to spell the prenomen of Pharaoh Sesostri II of the 12th Dynasty. These elements also include a remarkable composite hieroglyph representing a falcon crowned with double plumes who perches upon a basket, or neb-sign. This image is actually the hieroglyph which introduces the golden Horus name of ancient Egyptian pharaohs. The presence of these elements are the basis for the dating of the Treasure to the nineteenth century BC. Their presence reinforces the suggested elevated social status of the woman who was interred in Tomb 124.

The most exceptional jewel within this silver ensemble is a three-dimensionally designed bee, which Engelbach himself singled out and termed a 'centre-piece'. To the best of one's knowledge there is not a single jewel from the Middle Kingdom which is likewise designed as a truly three-dimensional object. Its inlays are remarkable in that they are used on both the left- and the right-hand sides of the bee and are even visible when the object is viewed from above. The feet of the bee are likewise three-dimensionally designed but are attached to a base which must have served as a bridge by which this object was attached to another of which it formed a part. The nature of that object is moot, but it may have been designed as either a bracelet or headband for which this bee served as the principle, dominating element.

There are no comparable assemblages of such deluxe objects known from tombs, either excavated or published, contemporary with those forming the Treasure of Harageh, although the material from Lisht, not yet published, may be of equal quality. The Treasure is noteworthy for what appears to be the earliest attestation of actual shells in the design of Egyptian jewellery and for the unique travertine cosmetic spoon, the ankh-design of the handle of which is without parallel for the period. The Treasure of Harageh can now be included within the corpus of masterpieces of ancient Egyptian art with the bee assuming primacy of place.

Literature

Engelbach, its excavator, states

'Fig. 10 is a fine alabaster headrest of the Xth-XIth dynasty, the head-piece and base being separate from the stem. It was found half way up a shaft in cemetery E: nothing else was found with it

Headrests of this type in general are discussed by Grajetzki who acknowledges that such objects had several functions, from the prosaic of providing a place for the resting of the deceased's head to connections with the 'Opening of the Mouth' ceremony of the Book of the Dead, the objectives of which were to animate both the statues of the deceased and the deceased him/herself

Literature

Osiriphoros figures grew in popularity in the Late Period and there are a number of related figures in museums worldwide. For example cf. E. Riefstahl, Egyptian Sculpture of the Late Period 700 B.C. to A.D. 700, The Brooklyn Museum, 1960. There is a slightly larger grey-green schist example in the Pierpont Morgan Library, New York, inv. no. 11 wearing instead a bag wig and a plain kilt. E. Riefstahl, op. cit., p. 46; no. 39, pl. 36, figs 84-5.

There is a closely related, also larger green schist example for Iret-Hom in the Walters Art Gallery, Baltimore, no. 22.215. The figure wears a similar striped wig and intricately folded 'gala garment' kilt and the Osiris in this group also wears the atef crown. cf. E. Riefstahl, op. cit., p. 61-2, no. 44, pl. 41, figs 98-9.

The most important feature of this statue for Padiaset is the connection to the cult of Set. According to myth, Set murdered his brother Osiris and fought Osiris's son Horus for sovereignty. In the light of this, it is unusual that an individual whose name bears that of Set should be holding an Osiris votive statue.

Moreover the connection to Set on a Late Period private statue is particularly rare and significant. During the Third Intermediate and Late Periods various foreign powers including the Assyrian and Persian empires invaded and occupied Egypt. The worship of Set, who had traditionally been the god of foreigners, became associated with foreign invasion and tyranny and his veneration declined.

However in some provincial areas of Egypt Set was still regarded as the heroic chief deity and this statue must come from one of these regions. For further discussion see H. te Velde, 'Seth, God of Confusion: A Study of His Role in Egyptian Mythology and Religion', in Probleme der Ägyptologie, 8, (G. Literature

This portrait is attributed to Hawara by D. Thompson (op. cit. AJA 77) and it is compared to portraits now in Baltimore (inv. 32.3), the Brooklyn Museum (inv. 11.600 B), and the National Gallery, London (inv. 2913) all excavated by W.M. Flinders Petrie at Hawara

Petrie excavated the cemeteries at Hawara between 1888-1911, and only approximately 2% of the mummies at Hawara were found with portrait panels. These portraits show a Roman-influenced urbanised population following fashions of Roman hairstyles, dress and jewellery. The above portrait closely resembles those of many of the female portraits found at Hawara. Cf. S. Walker and M. Bierbrier, Ancient Faces, Mummy Portraits from Roman Egypt, British Museum, 1997, nos. 17, 33, 39 and 41

Support the Future Study of Ancient Art

The Classical Art Research Centre (CARC) exists to lead and support the study of Greek and Roman art in all its aspects.

CARC supports research through its archives, study-facilities, and web resources. The Centre has its origin in the renowned Beazley Archive and hosts the famous Beazley Archive Pottery Database - the most important single resource for the study of ancient Greek vases.

CARC stimulates new research through its web resources, seminars, lectures, publications, and workshops. These cast new light on old subjects and explore new ones. Our particular focus is on encouraging the next generation of scholars in Oxford and beyond.

CARC generates its own research through specific projects. The oldest of these is the Gems Research Programme, which has its origins in the work of Sir John Beazley. The latest project looks beyond the classical world to investigate links between Greek and Roman art and ancient Central Asia.

CARC's work is aimed at everyone who wants to research and understand the fascinating heritage of ancient art.

CARC depends on the generosity and vision of donors to support its work and bring its resources to students, researchers, and art lovers around the world.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

This notice is addressed by Bonhams to any person who may be interested in a Lot, including Bidders and potential Bidders (including any eventual Buyer of the Lot). For ease of reference we refer to such persons as "Bidders" or "you". Our List of Definitions and Glossary is incorporated into this Notice to Bidders. It is at Appendix 3 at the back of the Catalogue where words and phrases are used in this notice which are in the List of Definitions – they are printed in italics.

IMPORTANT: Additional information applicable to the Sale may be set out in the Catalogue for the Sale, in an insert in the Catalogue and/or in a notice displayed at the Sale venue and you should read them as well. Announcements affecting the Sale may also be given out orally before and during the Sale without prior written notice. You should be alert to the possibility of changes and ask in advance of bidding if there have been any.

1. OUR ROLE

In its role as Auctioneer of Lots, Bonhams acts solely for and in the interests of the Seller. Bonhams' job is to sell the Lot at the highest price obtainable at the Sale to a Bidder. Bonhams does not act for Buyers or Bidders in this role and does not give advice to Buyers or Bidders. When it or its staff make statements about a Lot or if Bonhams provides a Condition Report on a Lot it is doing that on behalf of the Seller of the Lot. Bidders and Buyers who are themselves not expert in the Lots are strongly advised to seek and obtain independent advice on the Lots and their value before bidding for them. The Seller has authorised Bonhams to sell the Lot as its agent on its behalf and, save where we expressly make it clear to the contrary, Bonhams acts only as agent for the Seller. Any statement or representation we make in respect of a Lot is made on the Seller's behalf and, unless Bonhams sells a Lot as principal – not on our behalf and any Contract for Sale is between the Buyer and the Seller and not with us. If Bonhams sells a Lot as principal this will either be stated in the Catalogue or an announcement to that effect will be made by the Auctioneer, or it will be stated in a notice at the Sale or an insert in the Catalogue.

Bonhams does not owe or undertake or agree to any duty or responsibility to you in contract or tort (whether direct, collateral, express, implied or otherwise). If you successfully bid for a Lot and buy it, at that stage Bonhams does enter into an agreement with the Buyer. The terms of that contract are set out in our Buyer's Agreement, which you will find at Appendix 2 at the back of the Catalogue. This will govern Bonhams' relationship with the Buyer.

2. LOTS

Subject to the Contractual Description printed in bold letters in the Entry about the Lot in the Catalogue (see paragraph 3 below), Lots are sold to the Buyer on an "as is" basis, with all faults and imperfections. Illustrations and photographs contained in the Catalogue (other than photographs forming part of the Contractual Description) or elsewhere of any Lots are for identification purposes only. They may not reveal the true condition of the Lot. A photograph or illustration may not reflect an accurate reproduction of the colour(s) of the Lot. Lots are available for inspection prior to the Sale and it is for you to satisfy yourself as to each and every aspect of a Lot, including its authorship, attribution, condition, provenance, history, background, authenticity, style, period, age, suitability, quality, roadworthiness (if relevant), origin, value and estimated selling price (including the Hammer Price). It is your responsibility to examine any Lot in which you are interested. It should be remembered that the actual condition of a Lot may not be as good as that indicated by its outward appearance. In particular, parts may have been replaced or renewed and Lots may not be authentic or of satisfactory quality, the inside of a Lot may not be visible and may not be original or may be damaged, as for example where it is covered by upholstery or material. Given the age of many Lots they may have been damaged and/or repaired and you should not assume that a Lot is in good condition. Electronic or mechanical parts may not operate or may not comply with current statutory requirements. You should not assume that electrical items designed to operate on mains electricity will be suitable for connection to the mains electricity supply and you should obtain a report from a qualified electrician on their status before doing so. Such terms which are unsuitable for connection are sold as items of interest for display purposes only. If you yourself do not have expertise regarding a Lot, you should consult someone who does to advise you. We can assist in arranging facilities for you to carry out or have carried out more detailed inspections and tests. Please ask our staff for details.

Any person who damages a Lot will be held liable for the loss caused.

3. DESCRIPTIONS OF LOTS AND ESTIMATES

Contractual Description of a Lot

The Catalogue contains an Entry about each Lot. Each Lot is sold by its respective Seller to the Buyer of the Lot as corresponding only with that part of the Entry which is printed in bold letters and (except for the colour, which may be inaccurately reproduced) with any photograph of the Lot in the Catalogue. The remainder of the Entry, which is not printed in bold letters, represents Bonhams' opinion (given on behalf of the Seller) about the Lot only and is not part of the Contractual Description in accordance with which the Lot is sold by the Seller.

Estimates

In most cases, an Estimate is printed beside the Entry. Estimates are only an expression of Bonhams' opinion made on behalf of the Seller of the range where Bonhams thinks the Hammer Price for the Lot is likely to fall, it is not an Estimate of value. It does not take into account any VAT or Buyer's Premium payable. Lots can in fact sell for Hammer Prices below and above the Estimate. Any Estimate should not be relied on as an indication of the actual selling price or value of a Lot. Estimates are in the currency of the Sale.

Condition Reports

In respect of most Lots, you may ask for a Condition Report on its physical condition from Bonhams. If you do so, this will be provided by Bonhams on behalf of the Seller free of charge. Bonhams is not entering into a contract with you in respect of the Condition Report and accordingly does not assume responsibility to you in respect of it. Nor does the Seller owe or agree to owe you as a Bidder any obligation or duty in respect of this free report about a Lot, which is available for your own inspection or for inspection by an expert instructed by you. However, any written Description of the physical condition of the Lot contained in a Condition Report will form part of the Contractual Description of the Lot under which it is sold to any Buyer.

The Seller's responsibility to you

The Seller does not make or agree to make any representation of fact or contractual promise, Guarantee or warranty and undertakes no obligation or duty, whether in contract or in tort (other than to the eventual Buyer as set out above), in respect of the accuracy or completeness of any statement or representation made by him or on his behalf, which is in any way descriptive of any Lot or as to the anticipated or likely selling price of any Lot. Other than as set out above, no statement or representation in any way descriptive of a Lot or any Estimate is incorporated into any Contract for Sale between a Seller and a Buyer.

Bonhams' responsibility to you

You have the opportunity of examining the Lot if you want to and the Contract for Sale for a Lot is with the Seller and not with Bonhams. Bonhams acts as the Seller's agent only (unless Bonhams sells the Lot as principal).

Bonhams undertakes no obligation to you to examine, investigate or carry out any tests, either in sufficient depth or at all, on each Lot to establish the accuracy or otherwise of any Descriptions or opinions given by Bonhams, or by any person on Bonhams' behalf, whether in the Catalogue or elsewhere.

You should not suppose that such examinations, investigations or tests have occurred.

Bonhams does not make or agree to make any representation of fact, and undertakes no obligation or duty (whether in contract or tort) in respect of the accuracy or completeness of any statement or representation made by Bonhams or on Bonhams' behalf which is in any way descriptive of any Lot or as to the anticipated or likely selling price of any Lot. No statement or representation by Bonhams or on its behalf in any way descriptive of any Lot or any Estimate is incorporated into our Buyer's Agreement.

Alterations

Descriptions and Estimates may be amended at Bonhams' discretion from time to time by notice given orally or in writing before or during a Sale.

THE LOT IS AVAILABLE FOR INSPECTION AND YOU MUST FORM YOUR OWN OPINION IN RELATION TO IT. YOU ARE STRONGLY ADVISED TO EXAMINE ANY LOT OR HAVE IT EXAMINED ON YOUR BEHALF BEFORE THE SALE.

4. CONDUCT OF THE SALE

Our Sales are public auctions which persons may attend and you should take the opportunity to do so. We do reserve the right at our sole discretion to refuse admission to our premises or to any Sale without stating a reason. We have complete discretion as to whether the Sale proceeds, whether any Lot is included in the Sale, the manner in which the Sale is conducted and we may offer Lots for Sale in any order we choose notwithstanding the numbers given to Lots in the Catalogue. You should therefore check the date and starting time of the Sale, whether there have been any withdrawals or late entries. Remember that withdrawals and late entries may affect the time at which a Lot you are interested in is put up for Sale. We have complete discretion to refuse any bid, to nominate any bidding increment we consider appropriate, to divide any Lot to combine two or more Lots, to withdraw any Lot from a Sale and, before the Sale has been closed, to put up any Lot for auction again. Auction speeds can exceed 100 Lots to the hour and bidding increments are generally about 10%. However these do vary from Sale to Sale and from Auctioneer to Auctioneer. Please check with the department organising the Sale for advice on this. Where a Reserve has been applied to a Lot, the Auctioneer may, in his absolute discretion, place bids (up to an amount not equalling or exceeding such Reserve) on behalf of the Seller. We are not responsible to you in respect of the presence or absence of any Reserve in respect of any Lot. If there is a Reserve it will normally be no higher than the lower figure for any Estimate in the Catalogue – assuming that the currency of the Reserve has not fluctuated adversely against the currency of the Estimate. The Buyer will be the Bidder who makes the highest bid acceptable to the Auctioneer for any Lot (subject to any applicable Reserve) to whom the Lot is knocked down by the Auctioneer at the fall of the Auctioneer's hammer. Any dispute as to the highest acceptable bid will be settled by the Auctioneer in his absolute discretion. All bids tendered will relate to the actual Lot number announced by the Auctioneer. An electronic currency converter may be used at the Sale. This equipment is provided as a general guide as to the equivalent amount in certain currencies of a given bid. We do not accept any responsibility for any errors which may occur in the use of the currency converter. We may use video cameras to record the Sale and may record telephone calls for reasons of security and to assist in solving any disputes which may arise in relation to bids made at the Sale. At some Sales, for example, jewellery Sales, we may use screens on which images of the Lots will be projected. This service is provided to assist viewing at the Sale. The image on the screen should be treated as an indication only of the current Lot. It should be noted that all bids tendered will relate to the actual Lot number announced by the Auctioneer. We do not accept any responsibility for any errors which may occur in the use of the screen.

5. BIDDING

We do not accept bids from any person who has not completed and delivered to us one of our Bidding Forms, either our Bidder Registration Form, Absentee Bidding Form or Telephone Bidding Form. You will be asked for proof of identity, residence and references, which, when asked for, you must supply if your bids are to be accepted by us. Please bring your passport, driving licence (or similar photographic proof of identity) and proof of address. We may request a deposit from you before allowing you to bid. We may refuse entry to a Sale to any person even if that person has completed a Bidding Form.

Bidding in person

You should come to our Bidder registration desk at the Sale venue and fill out a Bidder Registration Form on (or, if possible, before) the day of the Sale. The bidding number system is sometimes referred to as "paddle bidding". You will be issued with a large card (a "paddle") with a printed number on it. This will be attributed to you for the purposes of the Sale. Should you be a successful Bidder you will need to ensure that your number can be clearly seen by the Auctioneer and that it is your number which is identified as the Buyer's. You should not let anyone else use your paddle as all Lots will be invoiced to the name and address given on your Bidder Registration Form. Once an invoice is issued it will not be changed. If there is any doubt as to the Hammer Price of or whether you are the successful Bidder of a particular Lot, you must draw this to the attention of the Auctioneer before the next Lot is offered for Sale. At the end of the Sale or when you have finished bidding please return your paddle to the Bidder registration desk.

Bidding by telephone (only available on lots with a low estimate greater than £400)

If you wish to bid at the Sale by telephone, please complete a Telephone Bidding Form, which is available from our offices or in the Catalogue. Please then return it to the office responsible for the Sale at least 24 hours in advance of the Sale. It is your responsibility to check with our Bids Office that your bid has been received. Telephone calls will be recorded. The telephone bidding facility is a discretionary service and may not be available in relation to all Lots. We will not be responsible for bidding on your behalf if you are unavailable at the time of the Sale or if the telephone connection is interrupted during bidding. Please contact us for further details.

Bidding by post or fax

Absentee Bidding Forms can be found in the back of this Catalogue and should be completed and sent to the office responsible for the Sale. It is in your interests to return your form as soon as possible, as if two or more Bidders submit identical bids for a Lot, the first bid received takes preference. In any event, all bids should be received at least 24 hours before the start of the Sale. Please check your Absentee Bidding Form carefully before returning it to us, fully completed and signed by you. It is your responsibility to check with our Bids Office that your bid has been received. This additional service is complimentary and is confidential. Such bids are made at your own risk and we cannot accept liability for our failure to receive and/or place any such bids. All bids made on your behalf will be made at the lowest level possible subject to Reserves and other bids made for the Lot. Where appropriate your bids will be rounded down to the nearest amount consistent with the Auctioneer's bidding increments. New Bidders must also provide proof of identity and address when submitting bids. Failure to do this will result in your bid not being placed.

Bidding via the internet

Please visit our Website at <http://www.bonhams.com> for details of how to bid via the internet.

Bidding through an agent

Bids will be accepted as placed on behalf of the person named as the principal on the Bidding Form although we may refuse to accept bids from an agent on behalf of a principal and will require written confirmation from the principal confirming the agent's authority to bid. Nevertheless, as the Bidding Form explains, any person placing a bid as agent on behalf of another, whether or not he has disclosed that fact or the identity of his principal, will be jointly and severally liable with the principal to the Seller and to Bonhams under any contract resulting from the acceptance of a bid. Subject to the above, please let us know if you are acting on behalf of another person when bidding for Lots at the Sale.

Equally, please let us know if you intend to nominate another person to bid on your behalf at the Sale unless this is to be carried out by us pursuant to a Telephone or Absentee Bidding Form that you have completed. If we do not approve the agency arrangements in writing before the Sale, we are entitled to assume that the person bidding at the Sale is bidding on his own behalf. Accordingly, the person bidding at the Sale will be the Buyer and will be liable to pay the Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium and associated charges. If we approve the identity of your client in advance, we will be in a position to address the invoice to your principal rather than you. We will require proof of the agent's client's identity and residence in advance of any bids made by the agent on his behalf. Please refer to our Conditions of Business and contact our Customer Services Department for further details.

6. CONTRACTS BETWEEN THE BUYER AND SELLER AND THE BUYER AND BONHAMS

On the Lot being knocked down to the Buyer, a Contract for Sale of the Lot will be entered into between the Seller and the Buyer on the terms of the Contract for Sale set out in Appendix 1 at the back of the Catalogue. You will be liable to pay the Purchase Price, which is the Hammer Price plus any applicable VAT. At the same time, a separate contract is also entered into between us as Auctioneers and the Buyer. This is our Buyer's Agreement, the terms of which are set out in Appendix 2 at the back of the Catalogue. Please read the terms of the Contract for Sale and our Buyer's Agreement contained in the Catalogue in case you are the successful Bidder. We may change the terms of either or both of these agreements in advance of their being entered into, by setting out different terms in the Catalogue and/or by placing an insert in the Catalogue and/or by notices at the Sale venue and/or by oral announcements before and during the Sale. You should be alert to this possibility of changes and ask if there have been any.

7. BUYER'S PREMIUM AND OTHER CHARGES PAYABLE BY THE BUYER

Under the Buyer's Agreement, a premium (the Buyer's Premium) is payable to us by the Buyer in accordance with the terms of the Buyer's Agreement and at rates set out below, calculated by reference to the Hammer Price and payable in addition to it. Storage charges and Expenses are also payable by the Buyer as set out in the Buyer's Agreement. All the sums payable to us by the Buyer are subject to VAT. For this Sale the following rates of Buyer's Premium will be payable by Buyers of Lots:

25% up to £50,000 of the Hammer Price
20% from £50,001 to £1,000,000 of the Hammer Price
12% from £1,000,001 of the Hammer Price

On certain Lots, which will be marked "AR" in the Catalogue and which are sold for a Hammer Price of €1,000 or greater (converted into the currency of the Sale using the European Central Bank Reference rate prevailing on the date of the Sale), the Additional Premium will be payable to us by the Buyer to cover our Expenses relating to the payment of royalties under the Artists Resale Right Regulations 2006. The Additional Premium will be a percentage of the amount of the Hammer Price calculated in accordance with the table below, and shall not exceed €12,500 (converted into the currency of the Sale using the European Central Bank Reference rate prevailing on the date of the Sale):

Hammer Price	Percentage amount

Exceeding €500,000	0.25%

8. VAT

The prevailing rate of VAT at the time of going to press is 20%, but this is subject to government change and the rate payable will be the rate in force on the date of the Sale.

The following symbols are used to denote that VAT is due on the Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium:

- † VAT at the prevailing rate on Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium
- Ω VAT on imported items at the prevailing rate on Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium
- * VAT on imported items at a preferential rate of 5% on Hammer Price and the prevailing rate on Buyer's Premium

- G Gold bullion exempt from VAT on the Hammer Price and subject to VAT at the prevailing rate on the Buyer's Premium

- α Buyers from within the EU: VAT is payable at the prevailing rate on just the Buyer's Premium (NOT the Hammer Price). Buyers from outside the EU: VAT is payable at the prevailing rate on both Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium. If a Buyer having registered under a non-EU address, decides that the item is not to be exported from the EU, then he should advise Bonhams immediately.

In all other instances no VAT will be charged on the Hammer Price, but VAT at the prevailing rate will be added to Buyer's Premium which will be invoiced on a VAT inclusive basis.

9. PAYMENT

It is of critical importance that you ensure that you have readily available funds to pay the Purchase Price and the Buyer's Premium (plus VAT and any other charges and Expenses to us) in full before making a bid for the Lot. 12. EXPORT/TRADE RESTRICTIONS

It is your sole responsibility to comply with all export and import regulations relating to your purchases and also to obtain any relevant export and/or import licence(s). Export licences are issued by Arts Council England and application forms can be obtained from its Export Licensing Unit. The detailed provisions of the export licencing arrangements can be found on the ACE website <http://www.artscouncil.org.uk/what-we-do/supporting-museums/cultural-property/export-controls/export-licensing/> or by phoning ACE on +44 (0)20 7973 5188. The need for import licences varies from country to country and you should acquaint yourself with all relevant local requirements and provisions. The refusal of any import or export licence(s) or any delay in obtaining such licence(s) shall not permit the rescission of any Sale nor allow any delay in making full payment for the Lot. Generally, please contact our shipping department before the Sale if you require assistance in relation to export regulations.

13. CITES REGULATIONS

Please be aware that all Lots marked with the symbol Y are subject to CITES regulations when exporting these items outside the EU. These regulations may be found at <http://www.defra.gov.uk/ahvia-en/imports-exports/cites/> or may be requested from:

Animal Health and Veterinary Laboratories Agency (AHVLA)

14. THE SELLERS AND/OR BONHAMS' LIABILITY

Other than any liability of the Seller to the Buyer of a Lot under the Contract for Sale, neither we nor the Seller are liable (whether in negligence or otherwise) for any error or misdescription or omission in any Description of a Lot or any Estimate in respect of it, whether contained in the Catalogue or otherwise, whether given orally or in writing and whether given before or during the Sale. Neither we nor the Seller will be liable for any loss of Business, profits, revenue or income, or for loss of reputation, or for disruption to Business or wasted time on the part of management or staff, or for indirect losses or consequential damages of any kind, irrespective in any case of the nature, volume or source of the loss or damage alleged to be suffered, and irrespective of whether the said loss or damage is caused by or claimed in respect of any negligence, other tort, breach of contract (if any) or statutory duty, restitutionary claim or otherwise. In any circumstances where we and/or the Seller are liable in relation to any Lot or any Description or Estimate made of any Lot, or the conduct of any Sale in relation to any Lot, whether in damages, for an indemnity or contribution, or for a restitutionary remedy or otherwise, our and/or the Seller's liability (combined, if both we and the Seller are liable) will be limited to payment of a sum which will not exceed by way of maximum the amount of the Purchase Price of the Lot irrespective in any case of the nature, volume or source of any loss or damage alleged to be suffered or sum claimed as due, and irrespective of whether the liability arises from any negligence, other tort, breach of contract (if any) or statutory duty or otherwise. Nothing set out above will be construed as excluding or restricting (whether directly or indirectly) our liability or excluding or restricting any person's rights or remedies in respect of (i) fraud or (ii) death or personal injury caused by our negligence (or by the negligence of any person under our control or for whom we are legally responsible), or (iii) acts or omissions for which we are liable under the Occupiers Liability Act 1957, or (iv) any other liability to the extent the same may not be excluded or restricted as a matter of law or (v) our undertakings under paragraphs 9 (in relation to specialist Stamp or Book Sales only) and 10 of the Buyer's Agreement. The same applies in respect of the Seller as if references to us in this paragraph were substituted with references to the Seller.

15. BOOKS

As stated above, all Lots are sold on an "as is" basis, subject to all faults, imperfections and errors of Description save as set out below. However, you will be entitled to reject a Book in the circumstances set out in paragraph 11 of the Buyer's Agreement. Please note that Lots comprising printed Books, unframed maps and bound manuscripts are not liable to VAT on the Buyer's Premium.

16. CLOCKS AND WATCHES

All Lots are sold "as is", and the absence of any reference to the condition of a clock or watch does not imply that the Lot is in good condition and without defects, repairs or restorations. Most clocks and watches have been repaired in the course of their normal lifetime and may now incorporate parts not original to them. Furthermore, Bonhams makes no representation or warranty that any clock or watch is in working order. As clocks and watches often contain fine and complex mechanisms, Bidders should be aware that a general service, change of battery or further repair work, for which the Buyer is solely responsible, may be necessary. Bidders should be aware that the importation of watches such as Rolex, Frank Muller and Corum into the United States is highly restricted. These watches may not be shipped to the USA and can only be imported personally.

17. FIREARMS – PROOF, CONDITION AND CERTIFICATION

Proof of Firearms

The term "proof exemption" indicates that a firearm has been examined at a Proof House, but not proved, as either (a) it was deemed of interest and not intended for use, or (b) ammunition was not available. In either case, the firearm must be regarded as unsafe to fire unless subsequently proved. Firearms proved for Black Powder should not be used with smokeless ammunition.

The term "Certificate of Unprovability" indicates that a firearm has been examined at a Proof House and is deemed both unsuitable for proof and use. Reproof is required before any such firearm is to be used.

Guns Sold as Parts

Barrels of guns sold as parts will only be made available for sieving and measurements once rendered unserviceable according to the Gun Barrel Proof Act of 1968 to 1978 and the Rules of Proof.

Condition of Firearms

Comment in this Catalogue is restricted, in general, to exceptional condition and to those defects that might affect the immediate safety of a firearm in normal use. An intending Bidder unable to make technical examinations and assessments is recommended to seek advice from a gunmaker or from a modern firearms specialist. All prospective Bidders are advised to consult the of bore and wall-thickness measurements posted in the saleroom and available from the department. Bidders should note that guns are stripped only where there is a strong indication of a mechanical malfunction. Stripping is not, otherwise, undertaken. Guns intended for use should be stripped and cleaned beforehand. Hammer guns should have their rebound mechanisms checked before use. The safety mechanisms of all guns must be tested before use. All measurements are approximate.

Original Gun Specifications Derived from Gunmakers

The Sporting Gun Department endeavours to confirm a gun's original specification and date of manufacture with makers who hold their original records.

Licensing Requirements Firearms Act 1968 as amended

Bonhams is constantly reviewing its procedures and would remind you that in the case of firearms or shotguns subject to certification, to conform with current legislation, Bonhams is required to see, as appropriate, your original registered firearms dealer's certificate / shot gun certificate / firearm certificate / museum firearms licence / Section 5 authority or import licence (or details of any exemption from which you may benefit, for instance Crown servant status, for the firearm(s) you have purchased prior to taking full payment of the amount shown on your invoice. Should you not already be in possession of such an authority or exemption, you are required to initially pay a deposit of 95% of the total invoice with the balance of 5% payable on presentation of your valid certificate or licence showing your authority to hold the firearm(s) concerned.

Please be advised that if a successful Bidder is then unable to produce the correct paperwork, the Lot(s) will be reoffered by Bonhams in the next appropriate Sale, on standard terms for Sellers, and you will be responsible for any loss incurred by Bonhams on the original Sale to you.

In the case of RFD certificates and Section 5 authorities, we wish to keep an up-to-date copy on file. Please supply us with a Fax or photocopy. It would be helpful if you could send us an updated copy whenever your certificate or authority is renewed or changed.

Lots marked 'S1' and bearing red labels are Section 1 firearms and require a valid British Firearms certificate, RFD Licence or import licence.

Lots marked 'S2' and bearing blue labels are Section 2 firearms and require a valid British Shotgun certificate, RFD licence or import licence.

Lots marked 'S5' and bearing specially marked red labels are Section 5 prohibited firearms and require a valid Section 5 Authority or import licence.

Lots marked with a 'S58' and bearing yellow labels are for obsolete calibres and no licence is required unless ammunition is held.

Unmarked Lots require no licence.

Please do not hesitate to contact the Modern Sporting Gun Department should you have any queries.

Taxidermy and Related Items

As a Seller of these articles, Bonhams undertakes to comply fully with Cites and DEFRA regulations. Buyers are advised to inform themselves of all such regulations and should expect the exportation of items to take some time to arrange.

18. FURNITURE

Upholstered Furniture

Whilst we take every care in cataloguing furniture which has been upholstered we offer no Guarantee as to the originality of the wood covered by fabric or upholstery.

19. JEWELLERY

~ Ruby and Jadeite

Ruby and jadeite gemstones of Burmese (Myanmar) origin may not be imported into the US. Rubies and jadeite of non-Burmese origin require certification before import into the US and it is the Buyer's responsibility to obtain all relevant and required export/import licences, certificates and documentation before shipping. Failure by the Buyer to successfully import goods into the US does not constitute grounds for non-payment or cancellation of Sale. Bonhams will not be responsible for any additional costs in this regard howsoever incurred.

Gemstones

Historically many gemstones have been subjected to a variety of treatments to enhance their appearance. Sapphires and rubies are routinely heat treated to improve their colour and clarity, similarly emeralds are frequently treated with oils or resin for the same purpose. Other treatments such as staining, irradiation or coating may have been used on other gemstones. These treatments may be permanent, whilst others may need special care or re-treatment over the years to retain their appearance. Bidders should be aware that Estimates assume that gemstones may have been subjected to such treatments. A number of laboratories issue certificates that give more detailed Descriptions of gemstones. However there may not be consensus between different laboratories on the degrees, or types of treatment for any particular gemstone. In the event that Bonhams has been given or has obtained certificates for any Lot in the Sale these certificates will be disclosed in the Catalogue. Although, as a matter of policy, Bonhams endeavours to provide certificates from recognised laboratories for certain gemstones, it is not feasible to obtain certificates for each Lot. In the event that no certificate is published in the Catalogue Bidders should assume that the gemstones may have been treated. Neither Bonhams nor the Seller accepts any liability for contradictions or differing certificates obtained by Buyers on any Lots subsequent to the Sale.

Estimated Weights

If a stone(s) weight appears within the body of the Description in capital letters, the stone(s) has been unmounted and weighed by Bonhams. If the weight of the stone(s) is stated to be approximate and does not appear in capital letters, the stone(s) has been assessed by us within its/their settings, and the stated weight is a statement of our opinion only. This information is given as a guide and Bidders should satisfy themselves with regard to this information as to its accuracy.

Signatures

1. A diamond brooch, by Kutchinsky

When the maker's name appears in the title, in Bonhams' opinion the piece is by that maker.

2. A diamond brooch, signed Kutchinsky

Has a signature that, in Bonhams' opinion, is authentic but may contain gemstones that are not original, or the piece may have been altered.

3. A diamond brooch, mounted by Kutchinsky

Has been created by the jeweller, in Bonhams' opinion, but using stones or designs supplied by the client.

20. PHOTOGRAPHS

Explanation of Catalogue Terms

- "Bill Brandt" in our opinion a work by the artist
- "Attributed to Bill Brandt" in our opinion probably a work by the artist, but less certainty as to authorship is expressed than in the preceding category.
- "Signed and/or titled and/or dated and/or inscribed" in our opinion the signature and/or title and/or date and/or inscription are in the artist's hand.
- "Signed and/or titled and/or dated and/or inscribed in another hand" in our opinion the signature and/or title and/or date and/or inscription have been added by another hand.

- The date given is that of the image (negative). Where no further date is given, this indicates that the photographic print is vintage (the term "vintage" may also be included in the Lot Description). A vintage photograph is one which was made within approximately 5-10 years of the negative. Where a second, later date appears, this refers to the date of printing. Where the exact printing date is not known, but understood to be later, "printed later" will appear in the Lot Description.
- Unless otherwise specified, dimensions given are those of the piece of paper on which the image is printed, including any margins. Some photographs may appear in the Catalogue without margins illustrated.
- All photographs are sold unframed unless stated in the Lot Description.

21. PICTURES

Explanation of Catalogue Terms

- The following terms used in the Catalogue have the following meanings but are subject to the general provisions relating to Descriptions contained in the Contract for Sale.
- "Jacopo Bassano" in our opinion a work by the artist. When the artist's forename(s) is not known, a series of asterisks, followed by the surname of the artist, whether preceded by an initial or not, indicates that in our opinion the work is by the artist named;
 - "Attributed to Jacopo Bassano" in our opinion probably a work by the artist but less certainty as to authorship is expressed than in the preceding category;
 - "Studio/Workshop of Jacopo Bassano" in our opinion a work by an unknown hand in a studio of the artist which may or may not have been executed under the artist's direction;
 - "Circle of Jacopo Bassano" in our opinion a work by a hand closely associated with a named artist but not necessarily his pupil;
 - "Follower of Jacopo Bassano" in our opinion a work by a painter working in the artist's style, contemporary or nearly contemporary, but not necessarily his pupil;
 - "Manner of Jacopo Bassano" in our opinion a work in the style of the artist and of a later date.
 - "After Jacopo Bassano" in our opinion, a copy of a known work of the artist;
 - "Signed and/or dated and/or inscribed" in our opinion the signature and/or date and/or inscription are from the hand of the artist;
 - "Bears a signature and/or date and/or inscription" in our opinion the signature and/or date and/or inscription have been added by another hand.

22. PORCELAIN AND GLASS

Damage and Restoration

For your guidance, in our Catalogues we detail, as far as practicable, recorded all significant defects, cracks and restoration. Such practicable Descriptions of damage cannot be definitive, and in providing Condition Reports, we cannot Guarantee that there are no other defects present which have not been mentioned. Bidders should satisfy themselves by inspection, as to the condition of each Lot. Please see the Contract for Sale printed in this Catalogue. Because of the difficulty in determining whether an item of glass has been repolished, in our Catalogues reference is only made to visible chips and cracks. No mention is made of repolishing, severe or otherwise.

23. VEHICLES

The Veteran Car Club of Great Britain

Dating Plates and Certificates

When mention is made of a Veteran Car Club Dating Plate or Dating Certificate in this Catalogue, it should be borne in mind that the Veteran Car Club of Great Britain using the services of Veteran Car Company Ltd, does from time to time, review cars already dated and, in some instances, where fresh evidence becomes available, the review can result in an alteration of date. Whilst the Club and Veteran Car Company Ltd make every effort to ensure accuracy, the date shown on the Dating Plate or Dating Certificate cannot be guaranteed as correct and intending purchasers should make their own enquiries as to the date of the car.

24. WINE

Lots which are lying under Bond and those liable to VAT may not be available for immediate collection.

Examining the wines

It is occasionally possible to provide a pre-Sale tasting for larger parcels (as defined below). This is generally limited to more recent and everyday drinking wines. Please contact the department for details.

It is not our policy to inspect every unopened case. In the case of wines older than 20 years the boxes will usually have been opened and levels and appearance noted in the Catalogue where necessary. You should make proper allowance for variations in ullage levels and conditions of corks, capsules and labels.

Corks and Ullages

Ullage refers to the space between the base of the cork and the wine. Ullage levels for Bordeaux shaped bottles are only normally noted when below the neck and for Burgundy, Alsace, German and Cognac shaped bottles when greater than 4 centimetres (cm). Acceptable ullage levels increase with age, generally acceptable levels are as follows:

- Under 15 years old – into neck or less than 4cm
- 15 to 30 years old – top shoulder (ts) or up to 5cm
- Over 30 years old – high shoulder (hs) or up to 6cm

It should be noted that ullages may change between publication of the Catalogue and the Sale and that corks may fail as a result of transporting the wine. We will only accept responsibility for Descriptions of condition at the time of publication of the Catalogue and cannot accept responsibility for any loss resulting from failure of corks either before or after this point.

Options to buy parcels

A parcel is a number of Lots of identical size of the same wine, bottle size and Description. The Buyer of any of these Lots has the option to accept some or all of the remaining Lots in the parcel at the same price, although such options will be at the Auctioneer's sole discretion. Absentee Bidders are, therefore, advised to bid on the first Lot in a parcel.

Wines in Bond

Wines lying in Bond are marked Δ and VAT is payable by the purchaser, at the standard rate on the Hammer Price unless the wines are to remain under Bond. Buyers requiring their wine to remain in Bond must notify Bonhams at the time of the Sale. The Buyer is then himself responsible for all duty, clearance VAT and other charges that may be payable thereon. All such Lots must be transferred or collected within two weeks of the Sale.

Buyers outside the UK must be aware that any forwarding agent appointed to export their purchases must have a movement certificate for Lots to be released under Bond.

CONTRACT FOR SALE

IMPORTANT: These terms may be changed in advance of the Sale of the Lot to you, by the setting out of different terms in the Catalogue for the Sale and/or by placing an insert in the Catalogue and/or by notices at the Sale venue and/or by oral announcements before and during the Sale at the Sale venue. You should be alert to this possibility of changes and ask in advance of bidding if there have been any.

Under this contract the Seller's liability in respect of the quality of the Lot, its fitness for any purpose and its conformity with any Description is limited. You are strongly advised to examine the Lot for yourself and/or obtain an independent examination of it before you buy it.

I THE CONTRACT

- 1.1 These terms govern the Contract for Sale of the Lot by the Seller to the Buyer
- 1.2 The Definitions and Glossary contained in Appendix 3 in the Catalogue are incorporated into this Contract for Sale and a separate copy can also be provided by Bonhams on request. Where words and phrases are used which are in the List of Definitions, they are printed in italics.
- 1.3 The Seller sells the Lot as the principal to the Contract for Sale, such contract being made between the Seller and you through Bonhams which acts in the sole capacity as the Seller's agent and not as an additional principal. However, if the Catalogue states that Bonhams sells the Lot as principal, or such a statement is made by an announcement by the Auctioneer or by a notice at the Sale, or an insert in the Catalogue, then Bonhams is the Seller for the purposes of this agreement
- 1.4 The contract is made on the fall of the Auctioneer's hammer in respect of the Lot when it is knocked down to you.

2 SELLER'S UNDERTAKINGS

- 2.1 The Seller undertakes to you that
 - 2.1.1 the Seller is the owner of the Lot or is duly authorised to sell the Lot by the owner,
 - 2.1.2 save as disclosed in the Entry for the Lot in the Catalogue, the Seller sells the Lot with full title guarantee or, where the Seller is an executor, trustee, liquidator, receiver or administrator, with whatever right, title or interest he may have in the Lot,
 - 2.1.3 except where the Sale is by an executor, trustee, liquidator, receiver or administrator the Seller is both legally entitled to sell the Lot, and legally capable of conferring on you quiet possession of the Lot and that the Sale conforms in every respect with the terms implied by the Sale of Goods Act 1979, Sections 12(1) and 12(2) (see the Definitions and Glossary),
 - 2.1.4 the Seller has complied with all requirements, legal or otherwise, relating to any export or import of the Lot, and all duties and taxes in respect of the export or import of the Lot have (unless stated to the contrary in the Catalogue or announced by the Auctioneer) been paid and, so far as the Seller is aware, all third parties have complied with such requirements in the past,
 - 2.1.5 subject to any alterations expressly identified as such made by announcement or notice at the Sale venue or by the Notice to Bidders or by an insert in the Catalogue, the Lot corresponds with the Contractual Description of the Lot, being that part of the Entry about the Lot in the Catalogue which is in bold letters and (except for colour) with any photograph of the Lot in the Catalogue and the contents of any Condition Report which has been provided to the Buyer

3 DESCRIPTIONS OF THE LOT

- 3.1 Paragraph 2.1.5 sets out what is the Contractual Description of the Lot. In particular, the Lot is not sold as corresponding with that part of the Entry in the Catalogue which is not printed in bold letters, which merely sets out (on the Seller's behalf) Bonhams' opinion about the Lot and which is not part of the Contractual Description upon which the Lot is sold. Any statement or representation other than that part of the Entry referred to in paragraph 2.1.5 (together with any express alteration to it as referred to in paragraph 2.1.5), including any Description or Estimate, whether made orally or in writing, including in the Catalogue or on Bonhams Website, or by conduct, or otherwise, and whether by or on behalf of the Seller or Bonhams and whether made prior to or during the Sale, is not part of the Contractual Description upon which the Lot is sold
- 3.2 Except as provided in paragraph 2.1.5, the Seller does not make or give and does not agree to make or give any contractual promise, undertaking, obligation, guarantee, warranty, or representation of fact, or undertake any duty of care, in relation to any Description of the Lot or any Estimate in relation to it, nor of the accuracy or completeness of any Description or Estimate which may have been made by or on behalf of the Seller including by Bonhams. 5 RISK, PROPERTY AND TITLE

- 5.1 Risk in the Lot passes to you when it is knocked down to you on the fall of the Auctioneer's hammer in respect of the Lot. The Seller will not be responsible thereafter for the Lot prior to you collecting it from Bonhams or the Storage Contractor with whom you have separate contract(s) as Buyer. You will indemnify the Seller and keep the Seller fully indemnified from and against all claims, proceedings, costs, expenses and losses arising in respect of any injury, loss and damage caused to the Lot after the fall of the Auctioneer's hammer until you obtain full title to it
- 5.2 Title to the Lot remains in and is retained by the Seller until the Purchase Price and all other sums payable by you to Bonhams in relation to the Lot have been paid in full to, and received in cleared funds by, Bonhams

- 6.1 Your obligation to pay the Purchase Price arises when the Lot is knocked down to you on the fall of the Auctioneer's hammer in respect of the Lot
- 6.2 Time will be of the essence in relation to payment of the Purchase Price and all other sums payable by you to Bonhams. Unless agreed in writing with you by Bonhams on the Seller's behalf (in which case you must comply with the terms of that agreement), all such sums must be paid to Bonhams by you in the currency in which the Sale was conducted by not later than 4.30pm on the second working day following the Sale and you must ensure that the funds are cleared by the seventh working day after the Sale. Payment must be made to Bonhams by one of the methods stated in the Notice to Bidders unless otherwise agreed with you in writing by Bonhams. If you do not pay any sums due in accordance with this paragraph, the Seller will have the rights set out in paragraph 8 below

7 COLLECTION OF THE LOT

- 7.2 The Seller is entitled to withhold possession from you of any other Lot he has sold to you at the same or at any other Sale and whether currently in Bonhams possession or not until payment in full and in cleared funds of the Purchase Price and all other sums due to the Seller and/or Bonhams in respect of the Lot
- 7.3 You will collect and remove the Lot at your own expense from Bonhams' custody and/or control or from the Storage Contractor's custody in accordance with Bonhams' instructions or requirements.
- 7.4 You will be wholly responsible for packing, handling and transport of the Lot on collection and for complying with all import or export regulations in connection with the Lot
- 7.5 You will be wholly responsible for any removal storage or other charges or Expenses incurred by the Seller if you do not remove the Lot in accordance with this paragraph 7 and will indemnify the Seller against all charges, costs, including any legal costs and fees, Expenses and losses suffered by the Seller by reason of your failure to remove the Lot including any charges due under any Storage Contract. BUYER'S AGREEMENT

IMPORTANT: These terms may be changed in advance of the Sale of the Lot to you, by the setting out of different terms in the Catalogue for the Sale and/or by placing an insert in the Catalogue and/or by notices at the Sale venue and/or by oral announcements before and during the Sale at the Sale venue. You should be alert to this possibility of changes and ask in advance of bidding if there have been any.

I THE CONTRACT

- 1.1 These terms govern the contract between Bonhams personally and the Buyer, being the person to whom a Lot has been knocked down by the Auctioneer.
- 1.2 The Definitions and Glossary contained in Appendix 3 to the Catalogue for the Sale are incorporated into this agreement and a separate copy can also be provided by us on request. Where words and phrases which are defined in the List of Definitions are used in this agreement, they are printed in italics. Reference is made in this agreement to information printed in the Notice to Bidders, printed in the Catalogue for the Sale and where such information is referred to it is incorporated into this agreement.
- 1.3 Except as specified in paragraph 4 of the Notice to Bidders the Contract for Sale of the Lot between you and the Seller is made on the fall of the Auctioneer's hammer in respect of the Lot when it is knocked down to you. At that moment a separate contract is also made between you and Bonhams on the terms in this Buyer's Agreement.
- 1.4 We act as agents for the Seller and are not answerable or personally responsible to you for any breach of contract or other default by the Seller unless Bonhams sells the Lot as principal.
- 1.5 Our personal obligations to you are governed by this agreement and we agree, subject to the terms below, to the following obligations:
- 1.5.1 we will, until the date and time specified in the Notice to Bidders or otherwise notified to you, store the Lot in accordance with paragraph 5.
- 1.5.2 subject to any power of the Seller or us to refuse to release the Lot to you, we will release the Lot to you in accordance with paragraph 4 once you have paid to us, in cleared funds, everything due to us and the Seller.
- 1.5.3 we will provide guarantees in the terms set out in paragraphs 9 and 10.
- 1.6 We do not make or give and do not agree to make or give any contractual promise, undertaking, obligation, Guarantee, warranty, representation of fact in relation to any Description of the Lot or any Estimate in relation to it, nor of the accuracy or completeness of any Description or Estimate which may have been made by us or on our behalf or by or on behalf of the Seller, whether made orally or in writing, including in the Catalogue or on Bonhams' Website or by conduct or otherwise), and whether made before or after this agreement or prior to or during the Sale. No such Description or Estimate is incorporated into this agreement between you and us. Any such Description or Estimate, if made by us or on our behalf, was (unless Bonhams itself sells the Lot as principal) made as agent on behalf of the Seller.

2 PERFORMANCE OF THE CONTRACT FOR SALE

You undertake to us personally that you will observe and comply with all your obligations and undertakings to the Seller under the Contract for Sale in respect of the Lot.

- 3.1 Unless agreed in writing between you and us or as otherwise set out in the Notice to Bidders, you must pay to us by not later than 4.30pm on the second working day following the Sale:
- 3.1.1 the Purchase Price for the Lot;
- 3.1.2 a Buyer's Premium in accordance with the rates set out in the Notice to Bidders, and
- 3.1.3 if the Lot is marked [AR], an Additional Premium which is calculated and payable in accordance with the Notice to Bidders together with VAT on that sum if applicable so that all sums due to us are cleared funds by the seventh working day after the Sale.
- 3.2 You must also pay us on demand any Expenses payable pursuant to this agreement.
- 3.3 All payments to us must be made in the currency in which the Sale was conducted, using, unless otherwise agreed by us in writing, one of the methods of payment set out in the Notice to Bidders. Our invoices will only be addressed to the registered Bidder unless the Bidder is acting as an agent for a named principal and we have approved that arrangement, in which case we will address the invoice to the principal.
- 3.4 Unless otherwise stated in this agreement all sums payable to us will be subject to VAT at the appropriate rate and VAT will be payable by you on all such sums.
- 3.5 We may deduct and retain for our own benefit from the monies paid by you to us the Buyer's Premium, the Commission payable by the Seller in respect of the Lot, any Expenses and VAT and any interest earned and/or incurred until payment to the Seller.
- 3.6 Time will be of the essence in relation to any payment payable to us. If you do not pay the Purchase Price, or any other sum due to us in accordance with this paragraph 3, we will have the rights set out in paragraph 7 below.
- 3.7 Where a number of Lots have been knocked down to you, any monies we receive from you will be applied firstly pro-rata to pay the Purchase Price of each Lot and secondly pro-rata to pay all amounts due to Bonhams.

4 COLLECTION OF THE LOT

- 4.1 Subject to any power of the Seller or us to refuse to release the Lot to you, once you have paid to us, in cleared funds, everything due to the Seller and to us, we will release the Lot to you or as you may direct us in writing. The Lot will only be released on production of a buyer collection document, obtained from our cashier's office.
- 4.2 You must collect and remove the Lot at your own expense by the date and time specified in the Notice to Bidders, or if no date is specified, by 4.30pm on the seventh day after the Sale.
- 4.3 For the period referred to in paragraph 4.2, the Lot can be collected from the address referred to in the Notice to Bidders for collection on the days and times specified in the Notice to Bidders. Thereafter, the Lot may be removed elsewhere for storage and you must enquire from us as to when and where you can collect it, although this information will usually be set out in the Notice to Bidders.

If you have not collected the Lot by the date specified in the Notice to Bidders, you authorise us, acting as your agent and on your behalf, to enter into a contract (the "Storage Contract") with the Storage Contractor for the storage of the Lot on the then current standard terms and conditions agreed between Bonhams and the Storage Contractor (copies of which are available on request). If the Lot is stored at our premises storage fees at our current daily rates (currently a minimum of £3 plus VAT per Lot per day) will be payable from the expiry of the period referred to in paragraph 4.2. These storage fees form part of our Expenses.

4.5

Until you have paid the Purchase Price and any Expenses in full the Lot will either be held by us as agent on behalf of the Seller or held by the Storage Contractor as agent on behalf of the Seller and ourselves on the terms contained in the Storage Contract.

4.6

You undertake to comply with the terms of any Storage Contract and in particular to pay the charges (and all costs of moving the Lot into storage) due under any Storage Contract. You acknowledge and agree that you will not be able to collect the Lot from the Storage Contractor's premises until you have paid the Purchase Price, any Expenses and all charges due under the Storage Contract.

4.7

You will be wholly responsible for packing, handling and transport of the Lot on collection and for complying with all import or export regulations in connection with the Lot.

4.8

You will be wholly responsible for any removal storage, or other charges for any Lot not removed in accordance with paragraph 4.2 payable at our current rates, and any Expenses we incur (including any charges due under the Storage Contract), all of which must be paid by you on demand and in any event before any collection of the Lot by you or on your behalf.

We agree to store the Lot until the earlier of your removal of the Lot or until the time and date set out in the Notice to Bidders, on the Sale Information Page or at the back of the catalogue (or if no date is specified, by 4.30pm on the seventh day after the Sale) and, subject to paragraphs 6 and 10, to be responsible as bailee to you for damage to or the loss or destruction of the Lot (notwithstanding that it is not your property before payment of the Purchase Price). If you do not collect the Lot before the time and date set out in the Notice to Bidders or if no date is specified, by 4.30pm on the seventh day after the Sale, we may remove the Lot to another location, the details of which will usually be set out in the relevant section of the Catalogue. If you have not paid for the Lot in accordance with paragraph 3 and the Lot is moved to any third party's premises, the Lot will be held by such third party strictly to Bonhams' order and we will retain our lien over the Lot until we have been paid in full in accordance with paragraph 3.
